GARDEN CENTER AROUND PADUCAH

H. W. Brewster, of Chicago,
Studies Situation

Believes He Can Develop the Industry Here Because of Many Advantages.

IS SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE

"I believe Paducah has a future as a market garden center," said H. W. Brewster of Chicago, yesterday after nearly a week spent in studying the country around this city. He had already acquainted himself with the geographic and transportation conditions surrounding Paducah. It was his satisfaction with these that brought Mr. Brewster here. He was formerly professor of agriculture at the University of Minnesota, but compelled to leave that climate for a softer one on account of his health.

"There will be little difference between methods of market gardening around Paducah and around Chicago," he said. "You have the advantage of the northern Illinois and Indiana gardeners by about four weeks and can get vegetables in the city market while prices are high. Another advantage you have is of cheaper land. The farming near the great city, of course, is intense, because the land is so valuable. The high price of land is driving out farmers. Many of them are going into the northwest territory of Canada and raising wheat. If we can direct them to this section we shall succeed in keeping in the states a class of thrifty, wealth-producing agriculturists, helping them and helping western Kentucky and doing a patriotic service.

"I was attracted to this section by information acquired through your Commercial club. Its statements did not falsify the situation in any particular. I think your uplands will do for cattle raising and your more fertile bottoms for truck farming. Your comparatively short winter gives the advantage to stock raisers of not being compelled to keep up the stock and feed heavily, as they do in the northwest. I should like to introduce the cultivation of alfalfa, a most profitable crop.

"Truck gardening on comparatively cheap land, only 12 hours from the great cities, with good freight rates; has attractions that should induce those good gardeners to abandon the northern Illinois fields and come here. That is my object here, and I think I can succeed."

It is probable that Mr. Brewster, who is here with his wife, will invest some money in Paducah and co-operate with local men, who are endeavoring to build up the truck farming industry.

Quarterly Court.

County Judge Lightfoot has overruled a motion filed in quarterly court by Attorneys Taylor & Lucas asking for the removal of Anna B. Scott as administratrix of the estate of her husband, the late James Scott, killed in Fulton on the Illinois Central. She dismissed, over the protest of the attorneys, a suit for $25,000 damages against the road, and the attorneys alleged she was not properly looking after the interests of her husband's estate.

W. R. Hocker, May V. Trice and C. C. Price, commissioners, have reported favorably for a new road from the Woodville to the Ogden landing road.

James Ingram Dies.

James Ingram, 40 years old, a well-known lock and gunsmith, died this morning at 4:50 o'clock of lung trouble after an illness of twelve days. He sold out his shop six weeks ago and went to Jackson, Tenn., returning three weeks later. He came here from Somerset, Ky., and was a member of the Woodmen of the World. He is survived by his wife and one son. The funeral will take place tomorrow at the apartments, Ninth and Trimble streets. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Reunions at Shiloh Field.

Major J. H. Ashcraft will leave the last of this week for Shiloh national park to take part in the meeting of the park commissioners there during the reunion April 6-7. It is the anniversary of the battle and all the surviving federal participants will have a reunion there for two days. No monuments will be unveiled.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Wednesday. Rising temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 53; lowest today, 36.

THAW INQUEST.

New York, April 2.—At an open session of the commission to decide on the sanity of Harry Thaw held today, Dr. McGuire, the Tombs physician, testified that he saw Thaw in prison and in court and never saw anything unusual in his actions. Michael Delchanty, Tombs attendant, testified in same manner as did Franklin Sheridan, another Tombs attache.

New York, April 2.—Dr. Hamilton swore he does not think Thaw capable of advising his attorneys.

CHICAGO ELECTION.

Chicago, April 2.—The municipal election today is the hottest ever held in Chicago. The result will determine whether Mayor Dunne's dream of municipal ownership of street railways will be realized. Both sides are confident of victory. The weather is favorable and a heavy vote is being polled. No election in the history of Chicago ever developed such a great volume of betting as the one today. It is estimated that two million of dollars are wagered on the result. It is not all Chicago money but comes from New York, Cincinnati, Memphis, Louisville, New Orleans and other cities. The odds favor Busse, Republican, for mayor.

G RAIN MARKET.

Cincinnati, April 2.—Wheat, 76; corn, 48; oats, 46.

LIBEL CHARGE.

Philadelphia, April 2.—William Hughey, chairman of former Mayor Weaver's gas company, was arrested today on the charge of libel. It is said he charged Vice-President Clark, of the United Gas Improvement company with attempting bribery.

COMMERCIAL CLUB FIELD

DAY IS BEING REPEATED. Commercial club committees are again hustling this afternoon, adding to the roster of the organization. Considerably more than a hundred new names have been secured since the first of the year. All members are evincing great interest.

Historic Font of Grace Church Is a Relic of Great Interest

It is perhaps not known to many in Paducah, and even to the membership of Grace Episcopal church, that the baptismal font, which is being removed from the church this week, where the beautiful new memorial font will be placed, is a relic of more than passing historical interest. It was the gift of King George, of England to the Episcopal church in Mt. Holly, N. J., which is in Burlington county settled largely by families from England, who doubtless were instrumental in interesting the king in the struggling little church in the colonies. At the same time he sent over a Bible and a Prayer Book, which were for many years used by the Mt. Holly church.

In the course of time the Mt. Holly church installed a more modern font and this one was stored away. Mrs. Samuel Langstaff, of this city, when visiting in Mt. Holly, saw it and was struck by its history and quaint design. She secured it and sent it as a gift to Grace Episcopal church, which was then being built on its present site. She has the letter of thanks and acceptance of it from the church vestry of that time, among

SCHOOL TRUSTEES NAME PRINCIPALS

Important Meeting of Board
Will be Held Tonight

Professor Dies, of Georgetown, Learns That Only Local Men
Will be Considered.

DEMANDS EXPENSES REFUNDED.

The school board will meet in regular session tonight and the election of a principal of the High school to succeed Principal E. George Payne resigned, will interest the board. Besides Prof. W. H. Sugg, C. A. Norvell and C. H. Shrieves, city. Prof. Dies, of Georgetown, Ky., is an applicant for the position. The board will have a great deal of routine business to transact and the meeting will doubtless be long.

Aside from the election of principals of the different buildings there is little above the routine business to come up before the board of education in the regular meeting Tuesday night. It is understood that many Odd Fellows favor purchasing the Longfellow school building, Fifth street and Kentucky avenue, for a lodge home, and negotiations with the school board toward that end probably will be begun immediately. Several of the leaders in the Odd Fellows think it would be excellent as an investment for the lodge and the present building would be sufficient for all lodge needs for many years. The school board is holding out for $25,000 for the building, and has had offers up to $22,500.

Demands His Expenses.

W. P. Dies, of Georgetown, an applicant for High school principal, has filed a claim for his expenses with Chairman Clements of the finance committee, setting forth the following correspondence:

Paducah, Ky., March 9, 1907.
"W. P. Dies,
"Georgetown, Ky.

"Dear Sir: Yours of the 6th at hand—contents noted—Will say that the election of principals will take place, April 2—07. If you can come down will be glad to have you among us.

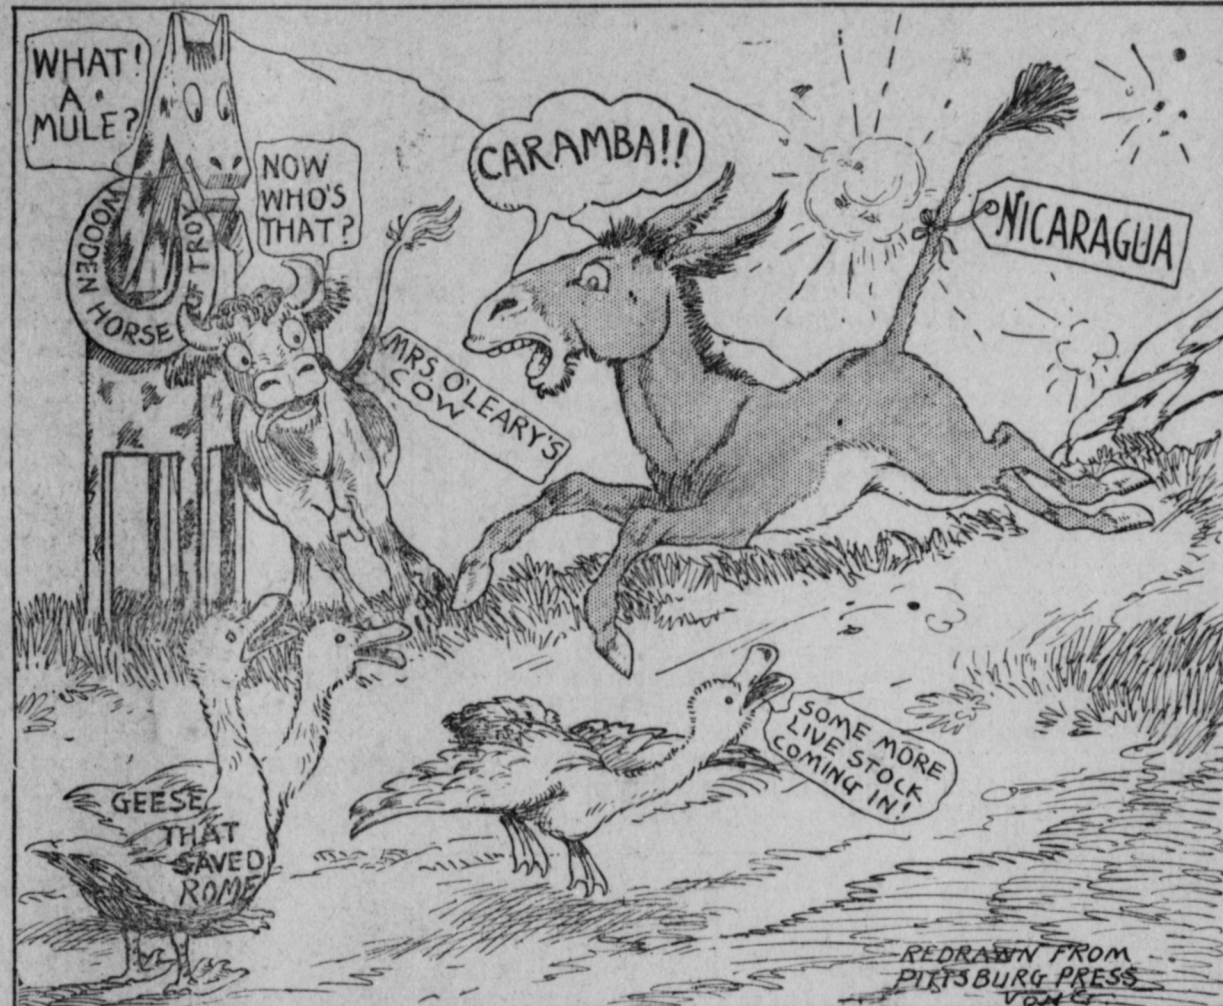

"Respectfully, W. T. BYRD, Clerk."

"The above communication from Mr. Byrd explains itself. In answer to this I wrote him that I would be here on Saturday, March 30, and was not informed by him of the decision of the school board not to consider any outside man for the principalship of the High school. My claim on the board is that I am due my expenses, because the secretary failed to write me to come. These expenses are $25.20. I hope to hear from you at once.—W. P. Dies."

The board will elect a successor to Miss Jessie Rook tonight.

—Captain J. M. Phillips, superintendent of floating stock of the I. C., has just returned from Helena, Ark., where he went on business.

ANOTHER JOINS THE IMMORTAL FLOCK.

Official correspondence shows that it was a dispute over a mule that started the war between Nicaragua and Honduras. The Nicaragua mule will therefore take its place with the other famous live stock makers of history. —News Item.

GOLDEN CROSS TO MEET IN PADUCAH

Many Prominent Men in Organization Will Attend Session Here April 11—State Grand Lodge Elects

LOCAL COMMITTEES ARE BUSY.

Preparations for the annual convention of the Kentucky grand commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, are being pushed to completion. The convention will be held in the Red Men's hall on North Fourth street. Seventy delegates and several prominent officers of the national lodge will be present. W. R. Cooper of Knoxville, Tenn., supreme keeper of the records; Dr. T. E. Gosnell, Louisville, supreme herald; J. W. McCall, Louisville, supreme trustee; and one or two other high officials will attend.

"The convention is expected to last one day and night, Thursday, April 11. The election of officers for the grand commandery will take place in the day, and a public installation will be held at night, followed by an entertainment. The details of the program are being arranged. The present state officers are: R. A. Barnes, Louisville, grand commander; Mrs. S. E. Stevens, Earlinton, vice-grand commander; Mrs. J. W. McCall, Louisville, prelate; W. B. Moore, grand keeper of the records; J. H. Burnett, Paducah, treasurer; Henry Welmer, James M. Lang, Paducah, and G. F. Russell, Louisville, trustees.

WILFUL UNTRUTH SAYS PRESIDENT

Washington, April 2.—The president today gave the lie to the assertions made in an alleged Harriman-Webster letter, by making public copies of the letters which the president wrote Congressman Sherman, of New York, last October. In one letter the president said: "I understand you to say Harriman alleged I made a promise to appoint Senator Depew ambassador to France when he came to see me in Washington. As such a statement is a deliberate and wilful untruth, by right it should be characterized by even a shorter and more ugly word, never requested Harriman to raise a dollar for the presidential campaign of '904."

Mechanic's Lien.

The Langstaff-Orme Manufacturing company filed a mechanics lien against the Mergenthaler-Horton Co. for $126.25 for material furnished.

LIGHTING PLANT FOR COURT HOUSE

Committee of Fiscal Court Appointed to Investigate Economy of Furnishing Its Own Light and Power

VISIT POOR FARM FOR DINNER.

Whether or not the county will have its own water steam heat and lighting plant, in the county court house rests with a committee of three, Magistrates Bleich, Burnett and Lane of the fiscal court. At present the monthly expense of water, light and steam heat is about $200.

Another committee composed of Magistrates Gholson, Emery and Bleich was appointed to confer with the D. A. R. relative to installing drinking fountains in the court house yard. The D. A. R. organization desires the county to pay for installing the fountains and to maintain them.

James C. Utterback, cashier of the City National bank, was elected treasurer over B. H. Scott, president of the Mechanics and Farmers' Savings bank. Both institutions bid 4 3-8 per cent. interest for use of the county's money.

Bert Johnson was re-elected county road supervisor over Rudolph Streif, Ed Willett, H. Derrington, May Trice and Baxter Kuykendall. His salary will remain $100 per month.

Hereafter the fiscal court will meet monthly instead of semi-annually.

At 11 o'clock the court adjourned until 2:30 o'clock and the members were taken to the county poor farm by Messrs. Sam and Earl Foreman in automobiles. The board took dinner at the poor farm and inspected it.

The meeting will last through tomorrow and possibly Thursday.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB IS RE-ORGANIZED

The Paducah Automobile club was organized at the Foreman Bros. machine company office last evening. The officers are P. D. Fitzpatrick, president; F. E. Lack, vice president; R. O. Gresham, secretary; Dick Rudy, treasurer.

Following are the members: J. W. Keffer, James, Charles and Ben Weikle, W. F. Paxton, J. T. Gilbert, Charles Fitzpatrick, G. Bridgeman, W. L. Bowers, S. E. and E. W. Foreman, H. A. Petter, C. E. Gridley, James Grogan, Wm. Yandell, Henry Arenz, Herbert and Melvin Wallerstein.

STEP-SON SHOOTS MOTHER'S HUSBAND

Coroner's Jury Calls It Justifiable Homicide

For Pilot M. A. McCawley, of The Cowling Killed By Bailey Crouch at Brookport.

HAD A FIGHT WITH HIS WIFE

Brookport, Ill., April 2.—(Special)—Calling at the home of his step-son, Bailey Crouch, where his wife took refuge after he had beaten her last night, Captain M. A. McCawley, of Brookport, Ill., saloonkeeper and former river pilot, was shot twice through the head and instantly killed by Crouch. The coroner's jury held an inquest and returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Crouch is at liberty. McCawley was 65 years old, and was buried today at Metropolis.

Family disturbances have been common since McCawley married Crouch's mother divorced wife of Marshal Gus Crouch, of Metropolis, four years ago. Recently McCawley returned from Indian Territory and yesterday he had a fight with his wife and was fined $20 in police court. His wife fled to Crouch's home for protection. It is said McCawley threatened the life of his wife and step-son.

About 5 o'clock he entered Crouch's home. He had a brick in his right hand and a revolver in his left pocket. The women fled out the door when he entered, and Crouch was attacked by him in the kitchen. An altercation ensued, and Crouch shot McCawley twice in the head, one bullet entering the right eye and the other the forehead. The man died instantly.

McCawley recently was pilot on the Cowling. He leaves two grown daughters and one son, living in Metropolis.

"TATER DAY" JAGS LEAD TO ARREST BY MARSHAL

"Tater Day" in Benton resulted in such a profusion of jags, that Wade Brown, deputy United States marshal, went down yesterday afternoon to investigate the source of the stimulants which apparently irrigated the town in broad streams. He thought he counted 100 drunk men on the streets of Benton. His visit resulted in the arrest of James Gardner, colored, for alleged bootlegging. This is the fourth arrest this week by Deputy Brown.

CHILDREN BURN IN RESIDENCES

Fulton, Ky., April 2.—(Special)—In a fire here this morning, which destroyed five houses, two children of Zealous Martin, a prosperous negro, were burned to death and two other children are unaccounted for. The house had been locked and the children were alone when the flames cremated them.

Final Rehearsal Tonight.

The final rehearsal of the Carnival of Flowers will take place this evening at the Kentucky theater. It will be with the orchestra but will not be a full dress rehearsal. All those taking part are urged to be present promptly at 7 o'clock. Visitors will not be admitted, except the parents of the children.

Easter Ball Last Night.

The Easter ball given by the Evergreen Circle, Woodmen of the World, at the Red Men's hall on North Fourth street last evening, was a most enjoyable affair. A large crowd was in attendance.

Pleasant Social Occasion.

Mrs. Melissa Wilkins entertained a number of his friends most pleasantly last evening at her home at Eleventh and Caldwell street. It was an enjoyable social occasion and delightful refreshments were served.

Kaiser Will Send Son to Harvard to Attend School With Roosevelt's Son

Berlin, April 2.—To his desire to have one of his sons grow up with one of President Roosevelt's boys is chiefly due the decision of Emperor
Wilhelm to send his fifth son, Prince Oscar, to Harvard university in September.

By entering Harvard at the beginning of the next college year Prince Oscar will have Theodore Roosevelt
as a college mate, while President Roosevelt's second son, Kermit, may begin his Harvard course at the same time.

Idea Not of Recent Growth.

The Kaiser's decision to send his fifth son to the famous American university is a continuation of his majesty's American policy, which began with the dispatch of his brother,
Prince Henry of Prussia, to the United States in 1903, and which has been kept up meantime by a series of compliments, such as the donation of statues, the buying of American yachts, the exchange of professors
by German and American universities, and by conspicuous hospitality
to distinguished American visitors.

Nothing definite in regard to Prince Oscar's plans for going to Harvard so far is known at the German foreign office of American embassy at Berlin. The Kaiser first expressed his intention to educate one of his sons at Harvard at a dinner at the American embassy last year.

He at the time had in mind his fourth son, Prince August Wilhelm, but as he has since become engaged to be married the Kaiser apparently decided that Prince Oscar, who will be 19 years old in July, should be the one to receive the advantage of a thoroughly democratic university training.

Freshman, With Military Adjutant.
It is probable Prince Oscar will be accompanied by a military adjutant.
He now is an undergraduate of Bonn university.

Two facts determined the emperor
in his choice of Harvard. First, it is the alma mater of President Roosevelt, and Ambassador Tower, who is extremely popular at the German court, and secondly it is the American university which makes a speciality of German subjects. Furthermore, it is the seat of that small American cult which opposes the Monroe doctrine.

It is announced that Prof. Burgess of Columbia university, emeritus Roosevelt professor at the University of Berlin, will this coming summer deliver a special series of lectures at Bonn on American constitutional history for the benefit of Prince August Wilhelm.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.

Cairo	41.5	1.3	fall
Chattanooga	6.3	0.7	fall
Cincinnati	26.3	0.9	rise
Evansville	26.7	4.4	fall
Florence	2.5	0.1	fall

Pittsburg	6.3	1.4	fall
St. Louis	17.1	0.5	rise
Mt. Vernon	30.2	4.3	fall
Paducah	24.4	2.1	fall

At this time last year, the river was going up steadily and finally reached 40 feet. It is merely an illustration of the unusual conditions prevailing this year. The river fell 2 1/2 in the last 24 hours, the stage
this morning being 24.4 April 2 last year the stage was 35.7. Business at the wharf is fair.

If the Peters Lee could be late every trip from the same excuse that made it late 30 hours this trip, there would be no objection. Instead of a steamboat coming into port, she looked like a floating chair factory coming down the Ohio river. There were 14,000 chairs on the Peters Lee, besides 70 buggies put off here, and 100 passengers. It is the record trip of any boat from Cincinnati down. The Peters Lee arrived yesterday at 5 o'clock and left at midnight for Memphis.

A hundred or more passengers will be on the City of Skidoo this trip out of St. Louis, going to the battlefield of Shiloh, where a reunion of some Union regiments will take place on April 6-7. The Skidoo will pass out Wednesday or Thursday.

Captain J. B. Flaseh, business manager of the Marine Engineers' association, went to St. Louis this morning on business.

Skipping the Clarksville trip this week, the Buttort will arrive tomorrow morning from Nashville and leave Wednesday at noon for Nashville.
Labor troubles usually knock the Buttort out of schedule.

The Chattanooga arrived yesterday afternoon from Chattanooga with a good trip and went down to Brookport to unload. The Chattanooga will be due to leave this afternoon on the return trip.

The Reaper arrived from Pittsburg last night and will go back up the Ohio river in a few days.

The T. H. Davis made a flying trip up here from Joppa last night with several barges.

Albert Rittenhouse arrived on the Peters Lee last night to get Paducah again.

The City of Memphis arrived today from the Tennessee river with business good, and will leave Wednesday evening for the same river.

The Charles Turner left this morning for the Tennessee river after a tow of ties.

The Evansville trade was represented today on time by the Joe Fowler.

Today's business was light in the Cairo trade going down, and the Dick Fowler will return tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Spread Eagle was scheduled to leave today for St. Louis.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo
will continue falling during the next several days. At Cairo, will pass below the 40-foot stage by Wednesday morning.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will continue to fall slowly
during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi from below St.
Louis to above Cairo will continue to rise slowly during the next 24 hours.
The Wabash at Mt. Carmel will continue to rise slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours.

NOBLE MAUSOLEUM TO BE ERECTED IN OAK GROVE.

Work will be begun this week on

Good Results In Lung Trouble

MRS. VICTOR A. BEAUCAIRE.

Mrs. Victor A. Beaucaire, a prominent club woman of Chicago, Ill., contracted a severe cold from being exposed in bad weather which resulted in serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Beaucaire, after taking several doses of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, says it has helped her wonderfully, brought the color to her cheeks, and that she would not be without it.

She pays high tribute to the world's greatest tonic stimulant in the following letter:

"As I am a member of the Hull House Women's Club, I was called out many times when the weather was very bad and so caught a very hard cold, and doctors claimed that my lungs were affected; in fact the left lung was almost gone, but since
I have taken your valuable DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, I feel better and would not do without it.
I have not been taking it very long,
but I am sure of good results; I have good color in my face and feel that I can work with a great deal more ambition. I cannot praise it too much. I have recommended it to several of my friends and they, too, are thankful for the benefit they have already derived from it." Mrs.
Victor A. Beaucaire, 255 Ogden Ave., Chicago, Ill. May 4, '06.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs, they poison the body and depress the heart, while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.
Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the one absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Thursday night, complimentary lecture under the auspices of The Knights of Columbus, "Knighthood Is Yet in Flower" by the Hon. La Vega Clements, of Owensboro, Ky.

Friday night and Saturday matinee,
"The Flower Carnival," under the auspices of the D. A. R.

"Girl of the Golden West."

Among a number of other characters that have rarely, if ever, before been put upon a stage, "The Girl of the Golden West," which with Blanche Bates as its star comes to the Kentucky theater for one night,
April 8, includes one that is especially distinctive because of the absolute perfection with which it is drawn. This character is Billy Jack-rabbitt, an Indian hanger-on of the camp. Because he is true to life Billy Jackrabbitt is anything but "the noble red man." His one ambition is to exist without labor, and in the least troublesome way. The Indian is present in the cast of characters because Billy Jackrabbitt is a real Indian and not the hero worshippers' ideal aborigine. The picture he draws is in some ways a shock to those whose ideas of Indian character have been taken from books in which he is credited with many virtues, but it is an absolutely faithful piece of portraiture.

"The Lion and the Mouse."

In "The Lion and the Mouse" which Henry B. Harris will present here at the Kentucky on April 12, Charles Klein, the author, has written a play that promises to be of enduring popularity. Indeed, it may be said that the success already achieved by this drama is beyond anything known in America in the past ten years. The theme is most pertinent to the present day when everyone is keenly alive to the machination of trusts and kings of finance.
Mr. Klein has displayed excellent judgment in presenting a phase of American life with which the public has become familiar through the newspapers and magazines of the times. He depicts a king of finance as he is, robbed of melodramatic attributes. In opposition to him he places a true figure of American womanhood—it is their struggle with the final victory for the girl that constitutes the basis upon which this powerful drama of emotion is built.

From this complication arises a series of situations of strong emotion,
and admirably as they are written,
they gain in power of conviction

from their adroit handling by the exceptionally fine cast which Mr. Harris has selected for the presentation of the keen interest of all classes of theatergoers.

Lazy men are always talking about some other men who are fools for luck.

SCROFULA A FAMILY BLOOD TAIN

Scrofula is not a disease that is acquired, under ordinary circumstances, it is a deep-seated family blood taint, handed down from generation to generation, blighting the lives and sapping the vital forces of innocent persons who have inherited this legacy of disease. Parents who are blood relations or who have a consumptive tendency, or blood disease of any character, are sure to transmit it to their offspring, and it usually takes the form of Scrofula.
Swollen glands, brittle bones, weak eyes, sores and eruptions on the body, Catarrh, and often deformities with hip disease, are the principal ways in which the trouble is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with scrofulous germs and poisons that from birth the sufferer is an object of pity because of suffering and a total lack of health, while in other instances favorable surroundings and prudent living hold the disease in check until later in life. A deep-seated blood disease like Scrofula can only be reached by the very best constitutional treatment. A remedy is required that can renovate the entire blood supply and drive out the scrofulous and tuberculous deposits. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes to the very bottom of all blood disorders and removes every taint and poison from the circulation,
makes rich, healthy blood and cures Scrofula permanently. S. S. S. supplies the weak, diseased blood with the rich, health-sustaining properties it is in need of, and makes this life stream fit to supply every part of the system with strength and vitality. Scrofula yields to S. S. S. because it is a natural blood purifier. Write for book on the blood and any medical advice desired. No charge for either.

Daily Thought.

Misfortunes to which we are used affect us less severely.—Juvenal.

OUR SCHOOLS AT STAKE.

Grave responsibility rests on the school trustees, who tonight probably will elect a principal of the High school to succeed Professor George Payne. It is up to them whether the standard established by the present administration is maintained or lowered. There is a rule, governing the selection of a High school principal,
which provides that he shall have been graduated by an institution of learning, recognized by the standard of the college union. To abrogate that rule now, or disregard it, would be most unfortunate, not to say a calamity. The rule was adopted three years ago. At that time Professor Payne had not fully come up to the new qualifications, and specific exception was made of the incumbent.
It being generally known that he would complete the qualifications.
This he did and this year for the first time Paducah has a High school principal fully qualified by the highest standards recognized in any of the public schools of the country.
This year, too, the High school has three university graduates in its faculty, where formerly there were none, and now the High school's certificate is accepted for entrance requirements by all the institutions of higher education in the country.
These are essential considerations in a High school. The standard for a High school is not fixed by the Paducah school board. It is fixed by the colleges of the country. Poor boys, who expect to work their way through college, expect to qualify for entrance in our public schools. They can not afford private tutors. Boys, who do not expect to go to college,
are entitled to a well rounded education in the public schools. People of other cities in studying the Paducah public school system, will askof some educator how it stands, and he will refer to the list of accredited High schools, well knowing that if the High school is of the required standard the departments leading up to it must necessarily come up to requirements, as far as the course of study is concerned. The community will be judged by its schools and its schools will be judged by the High school. People do not care to come to a city, where their children will not secure the educational advantages for which they pay taxes. In the name of the fathers and mothers and taxpayers of Paducah, we demand that the school board apply the rule of qualifications for High school principal rigidly, and we are well aware what applicants fall short of and what applicants come up to the qualifications.

WRITING THE UNWRITTEN LAW.

Virginia proposes to enact the "unwritten law" into a statute, thus making a new departure in criminal legislation—adopting a law legalizing murder, instead of limiting and defining crime. The proposed bill consists of one brief paragraph:"That in all criminal trials involving a charge of assault and battery, assault with intent to kill, or homicide, in which it is proven that the person upon whom such assault was committed had been guilty
of a wrong to the person of the wife, mother, sister, or daughter of the accused, the jury shall be the judges of whether such provocation was sufficient to justify such punishment."The general effect of this, of course is to make every man the judge, jury and executioner in the first place of offenses against himself, with a reviewing court of his own peers to pass upon his conduct and decide whether he shall be punished for the undue exercise of discretion with which the law vests him.Virginia has other laws now on her statute books, providing punishment for wrongs against the family.
This will afford two remedies for the same offense. The man may kill the person guilty of wrong against his wife, or the person may be tried and punished in court for the offense.
This new law provides capital punishment, if the wronged husband is of a murderous disposition. But, if the wronged husband happens to be more civilized than the proposed law, if enacted, would indicate as the condition of society in the Old Dominion, the punishment will be of less degree.If the laws now existing are abrogated, there will be no specific punishment prescribed for wrongs
against the family, unless the wronged husband is willing to take chances with his temper.Not only will complications result in this way, but injustice will be done to the wronged husband. Minds of men vary in degrees of reasoning power, and reasoning power is to a greater or less extent abrogated by the presence of intense passion. The wronged husband must be actuated
by intense passion to kill the offending party. He is in no condition to determine, whether or not he is justified in killing the offender. Until some precedent is established he will be in the dark as to how far he dares to go,
and after the establishment of precedent, he will have to adopt one of two courses: either acquaint himself with the law before attacking;
or see a lawyer first and a dealer in fire arms afterward. Neither course is consistent with blinding passion.After all, the jury under this broad latitude is only to determine whether or not the husband acted in "sudden heat and passion." We think there are quite enough homicides and quite enough acquittals in this country now, and we pay Virginia the tribute of predicting that the "unwritten law" statute will retain the significance of its name, and take its place in the legislative museum,
with Iowa's ordinance of marriage, Missouri's bachelor tax, and Illinois'
statute, limiting a woman to two plumes a year.If Paducah's grocers, merchants and business men of all kinds would take as much interest in the welfare of the city aside from personal interests, as do the doctors, this city would be ten years ahead of her present status, and Paducah is not of backward growth, either. Serving without a cent of remuneration, giving up their time to the public's interest, well knowing that every move they make will meet with bitter denunciation from some one who is discommoded, and will win no approbation from those who are benefited, the members of the board of health are among the most active officials of the city. They are untiring and unselfish in their efforts, and they should receive encouragement in the good work they are doing. Their objects are slow of accomplishment, but they are gradually winning. The health and possibly the life of every citizen of Paducah is directly affected by the success or failure of the workof the board of health and the citizens should get behind the board and help its members.The department of commerce and labor, guesser of census, has raised a scream from Maine to Oregon and from the lakes to the gulf. Not a city or hamlet in the United States, but is prepared to prove errors ranging from two births to 100,000 population. Whatever else one may say of the "guessing bureau", system is employed and discrimination is not chargeable. For instance every, second class city in Kentucky increased its population 3,000 in seven years, while Louisville's increase was proportionately greater, and Owens-boro's proportionately less. Henderson seems to have made a 50 per cent. increase. It will soon be bigger than Cairo and Owensboro together, in Washington.Kaiser Wilhelm wishes one of his boys to be educated at Harvard, from which President Roosevelt was graduated, and to associate with the Roosevelt boys. That's not the secret, Wilhelm. Harvard graduated a lot of boys, who have never been heard from since.Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, again opens wide his mouth
to illuminate the financial situation.
The shadows he casts on the administration are attributable to the fact that it is standard oil that makes this Day.

PADUCAH, KY.BODY IN RIVER IS
FRANK M'KAY, JR.Paducah Young Man Who Met
Death March 17.Fell From Dick Fowler While Returning From Cairo on Excursion to See Wasp.

BROUGHT BACK IN A SKIFF.

Papers on the body, the finding of which in the Ohio river, near Metropolis, was exclusively mentioned in The Sun, prove that Frank McKay,
Jr., 21 years old, of 722 North Sixth street, a "finisher" at the Hardy Buggy company plant, met death in the Ohio river between Paducah and Metropolis on the night of March 17, while returning from Cairo, Ill., after viewing the gunboat Wasp. His body was taken from the river yesterday at noon near Metropolis, and papers in his pockets fully identified him. Coroner Frank Baker of Paducah, was notified, and the body being found within the jurisdiction of Kentucky, he took charge.
The Dick Fowler officers last night refused to carry the body there because of its not being in good condition and because legal complications might result from carrying a corpse from Illinois into Kentucky without an inquest or proper form. The officers of the Cowling wanted $25, and Coroner Frank Baker sent the body here in a skiff. It arrived early this morning.Frank McKay, Jr., was the son of Frank McKay, a collector for the Central Coal and Iron company. On the morning of Sunday, March 17,
he left Paducah on the steamer
Dick Fowler for Cairo with a large crowd to see the gunboat Wasp. He was seen among the passengers on the return trip. No one reported a "man overboard" and no lights were reported. The natural conclusion is that he fell overboard unseen. His parents several days after his disappearance notified the police department, but a search proved fruitless.
His family concluded he had gone somewhere to visit relatives for several weeks, and were not greatly alarmed, the young man being sober,
industrious and of the best habits.

Father Says Foul Play.

Frank McKay, Sr., thinks that his son, who was drowned in the Ohio river, met foul play, and will attempt to bring it out in evidence in the coroner's inquest he declares. Mc-Kay says that his son was behaving on the boat. He will attempt to prove that his son was kicked down the steps leading from the cabin to the lower deck, kicked again on the deck
and taken into the life preserver room and later thrown into the river.There are two young women who will figure prominently in the mystery. One came to the father several days after young McKay's disappearance and told him she had seen his son assaulted. The second is a young woman with whom he danced
the last set before he disappeared.

March Is a Trying Month.

"Nor love, nor honor, wealth nor power,
Can give the heart a cheerful hour,
When health is lost. Be timely wise,
With health all taste of pleasure
flies."March is conceded by local physicians to be the worst month in the year in Paducah, in the point of the extent of sickness. The quick changes in the temperature, warm one day, chilly, with penetrating winds the next affect the physical condition probably more than any season of the year.The only safeguard therefore is to get yourself in good condition. The liver, the blood, the kidneys, the skin should be in first class order or you can not stand the trying month.
Osteopathy, quickly naturally restore any disarrangement to any of these essentials of good health. The torpid liver, the disordered kidneys,
the poor blood supply or circulation readily yield to its health giving methods.The treatment is simplicity itself, sane, rational, without the use of harmful drugs. It cures by scientific manipulation to restore the normal functions to each organ. It recognizes, appreciates and uses proper diet, air, water, exercise and other natural hygienic measures, too.A trite saying is "Seeing is believing," so I shall be pleased to refer you, if you are interested, to any number of people you know well who can attest to the virtues of the treatment
in liver, stomach, bowels, rheumatic, asthma, malaria, neuralgia and nervous condition.Call me at 1407 or call at my office, 516 Broadway, at any time between 9 and 12 a. m. or 2 and 5 p. m. Dr.
G. E. Froga.This is Miss Minnie Pruitt, of Fourth and Jefferson streets. Miss Pruitt declares that young McKay danced with her just before he went outside the cabin near Metropolis, saying he would be gone but a short time, and to save the next dance for him. After that he failed to show up again.The body was prepared for burial
at Guy Nance's undertaking parlors,
and the funeral will take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence, the Rev. G. W. Banks, of the Trimble street Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.Coroner Frank Baker summoned his jury this morning and had the members inspect the body. He will hold the inquest tomorrow when the father can have his witnesses present,
and witnesses from the boat can also be in attendance.

Capt. Cole's Statement.

Captain Mark Cole, of the steamer
Dick Fowler, stated this morning that McKay was drunk on the boat on March 17."I do not remember much about the young man," he explained, "but Mate Pete Welton stated that he remembers putting him out of the cabin just below Metropolis because he was kicking against the cabin door damaging the varnish. The engineer informed me that the young man came down into the engine room soon after Metropolis was reached, and he warned McKay to keep away from the engines, fearing he would fall against one. Later he ejected McKay from the engine room. This is the last the crew saw of him."

Refrigerators

We have received and now have on our floor in the Refrigerator Section the new models of Bohn Syphon Refrigerators—and they are beauties. This peerless refrigerator first gained fame a few years ago when all the leading railroads adopted it for dining and refrigerator cars, after the most thorough tests. These tests proved the following:That the Bohn keeps milk, the most perishable food, sweet and wholesome 72 hours, proving absence of germ life.That vegetables and fruits will not taint milk, butter and puddings in open vessels, when in the same food compartments, proving the absence of dead air.That matches kept in the food compartment 24 hours light freely—the supreme test of dryness.That the Bohn maintains a temperature 6 to 15 degrees cooler than any other, with an equal amount of ice,
in a refrigerator of like size.

NOTE—Cold and dryness combined prevent germ life.

No other refrigerator is as dry or as cold.

That the active circulation of air is proved by a lighted match held at the bottom of the food
compartment where the current from the ice chamber will almost extinguish it.That the food compartment is as large or larger than any other similar priced refrigerator, size for size.We Are Exclusive Agents for This

TEST PLAN
We carry the Bohn Syphon
Refrigerator in all sizes,
to suit the requirements of any family.We sell the Bohn on a strict guarantee, and to prove all the claims made by the manufacturers and our own advertised statements, we offer this refrigerator subject to a Home Test. If, after use in your home 10 days, this refrigerator does not prove all that we claim for it, you may instruct us to have our deliveryman call for it and we will refund the purchase price.Made With Enamel or Porcelain Linings—Exterior of Wood or Porcelain

—Place your orders for wedding invitations at home. The Sun is showing as great an assortment as you will find anywhere at prices much lower than you will have to pay elsewhere.

—Combined saddle and harness horses are a distinct type and breed. They are high-class drivers and five-gaited saddlers. Combined horses are the most beautiful and the most in demand; command a ready sale, and bring the highest prices of any of the breeds. The stallion "Rebel Dare," King Pin of the Paducah Horse Show 1906, now at the Lang farm near Paducah, is a registered combined horse of the highest breeding and type of this useful horse, and the only one in west Kentucky fully representing his class.

—The Rev. G. W. Banks, of the Trimble street Methodist church, will go to Calvert City April 19 to deliver his lecture, "Through Paducah on Horseback." He has delivered the lecture three times to Paducah audiences and it is an interesting address.

—The Modern Woodmen of the World and the Royal Neighbors will hold a joint open meeting at the K. of P. hall tonight. A musical program and refreshments will be the social features of the session.

—Don't fail to read the first chapter of The Sun's new serial, "A Maker of History," on page seven. It is one of the very best this paper has run.

Paducah Coöperage company against Walsh Manufacturing company, dismissed.

In Police Court.

Ed Bulger, of Mechanicsburg, resisted Patrolman Sam Howell last evening when the policeman arrested him for being drunk and disorderly, and as a result a second warrant was issued against him for disorderly conduct. Both were continued pending the acquisition of witnesses.

William Wicklife, a young man, was held over for obtaining property by false pretenses—some eggs from Butler & Liberman, grocers of Mechanicsburg.

Will Blythe, colored, for striking a woman, was fined $40 and costs.

Other cases: Gabe Fletcher for maliciously assaulting Cal Riley, colored, and Riley for maliciously cutting Fletcher, continued; Clarence McGuire, petit larceny, fled away; H. D. Trace, James Washam and Tom Farmer, for tearing up clothes and bedding in the city jail, $10 and costs each; Will Musick, Tom Farmer, James Washam and H. D. Trace, drunkenness, $1 and costs each.

The Kentucky Printing company, Roy Ballowe, druggist, and Fred Kreutzer, baker, charged with maintaining unsanitary premises, were dismissed by Police Judge D. A. Cross yesterday afternoon. Harth Bros. Grain company, Eighth and Norton streets, proved that a pool of stagnant water in the rear of its plant is being drained, and the warrant was held up. A partial hearing of a nuisance case against the Well distillery in Tyler, was continued until Thursday.

Army Comfort.

Comfort is a relative term. In a soldier's camp things appear delightful which would hardly be thought so at home. When the day after the battle of Gaines' Mill, John, a negro servant, came in for supplies, says Mrs. Pryor, in her reminiscences, his mistress asked after his master's well-being.

"Did he have a comfortable night John?"

"He sholy did, mistus," was the reply. "Marse Roger sart'nly was comfortable las' night. He slep on de field 'twixt two daid horses."

"Home, Sweet Home," was first sung in this country at a theater in Philadelphia, in connection with the production of John Howard Payne's melodrama, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." This was in 1823. The play was originally produced in Covent Garden theater, London, and immediately the sweet air of the song by Clari became famous.

G. W. Landrum, of Smithland, candidate for railroad commissioner, was in the city last night on business.

Many a man has accomplished great things because he knew some woman would smile on him for it.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervousness makes people miserable, blue, and unhappy. They think something terrible is going to happen. At night they toss and worry and are not rested. They tire easily and haven't much energy. They think many things are the matter with them—Consumption, kidney trouble, or twenty other diseases. It's just stomach trouble, nothing else in the world. Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape in three weeks. I know this because I've seen it tried a thousand times. Then all nervousness will disappear. I know this too, because I've seen it happen a thousand times. Here's a letter I got the other day:

"My system was badly run down and my stomach and nerves in an awful shape. I could not digest my food, was always tired and would often feel faint and dizzy."

"I had heard so much of your New Discovery medicine that I began taking it. Relief and strength and happiness were found in the very first bottle and the benefit I have received from it has been truly wonderful. I am no longer nervous, my appetite and digestion are good and I eat everything and sleep well."

Mrs. W. J. Schauer, 220 Guthrie St., Louisville, Ky.

We sell Cooper's New Discovery. It makes tired, worn out, nervous people happy.

W. B. McPHERSON.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

The Old Grow Young.

Mayfield, Ky., April 2.—J. M. Sawyer, of Hickory Grove, was married to Mrs. Mary Albritton in Mayfield at the home of her son, Councilman John Albritton. The ceremony was performed by that distinguished justice of the peace J. H. Owsley. The groom is 75 years of age while the bride has seen 66 summers.

Goes After the Night Riders.

Louisville, April 2.—Fire Marshal Mott Ayres left last night for Western Kentucky to investigate some of the recent depredations of the night riders. Some tobacco barns were burned in that section of the state Tuesday night last, and Colonel

Ayres will offer rewards and make every effort to have the guilty indicted.

Killed By Log Wagon.

Fulton, Ky., April 2.—Walter Cannon, aged 18, of near Harris, was killed Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock by being run over by a heavily loaded wagon. Young Cannon was riding on the wagon when a log on which he was sitting rolled and caused him to be thrown under the wheels. The wheel of the big wagon passed over the young man's chest and death was almost instantaneous.

Night Riders Again.

Princeton, Ky., April 2.—The tobacco raiders continue active in this section, and as a result of their latest depredations, the losses will run up into thousands of dollars, while practically no efforts are being made to capture the culprits.

Last night the tobacco bed of Mr. Cartwright, a well-known planter living near Friendship, about six or seven miles east of Princeton, was totally destroyed, and Mr. Cartwright reports that about twenty other beds in his neighborhood have suffered a similar fate.

Reports are also coming in of great destruction being wrought in Christian, Lyon and other parts of Caldwell county, the beds of association members as well as independents suffering.

Unless something is done soon by the officials, it is believed here that vigilance committees will be organized and the criminals run to earth and taken dead or alive.

Sale of Rehkopf Personality.

Sale of machinery and rye straw, personal property of E. Rehkopf, bankrupt, held yesterday afternoon by Trustee A. E. Boyd, brought a total of $1,622.50. Machinery moved from the collar factory, 411 Kentucky avenue, went to W. F. Bradshaw, Sr., for $1,115, and 70 tons of rye straw stored at the collar shop, was bought by G. Mason, of the Gray & Dudley Hardware company, of Nashville, for $507.50. This brings the total amount derived from the sale of personal property and real estate to $50,993.56, about 40 cents on the dollar.

Four-Months-Old Child.

The four-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harris, of Sharpe, Marshall county, died yesterday morning of complications, and was buried yesterday afternoon in Oakland cemetery.

Many a man's first mistake was in the selection of his parents.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle-wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilarating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dress-makers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is of known composition and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and all answers are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAS POWER TO ACT

To Contract for Disposal of City Garbage

Saloon License Granted Over Protest of Neighbors on Kentucky Avenue.

ORDEN TOY PISTOL ORDINANCE.

Power was given last night to the board of health by the board of councilmen to make a new contract for the handling of city garbage. Ghent & Elliott, garbage contractors, have practically ceased to operate their garbage float. Dr. H. P. Sights, of the board of health, was present to tell how serious is the situation, and the board, urged by his recital, voted to have a new contract made before warm weather sets in.

President Lindsey was absent and Councilman E. Lackey sat in his chair. The business was principally routine, and required but an hour.

The board of aldermen met at 7:20 o'clock long enough to pass two street improvement ordinances.

Board of Aldermen.

Alderman Baker was absent. Mayor Yeiser read the call. Final reading of ordinances for sidewalks, curbs and gutters on Broadway, from the old city limits at the railroad hospital to the present city limits.

The ordinances are separate, one providing for curbs and gutters, and the second for sidewalks. They were read and passed.

Board of Councilmen.

City Clerk Henry Bailey called the board to order in the absence of President Lindsey.

Councilman Earnest Lackey was elected chairman without opposition. The minutes of the last regular meeting were adopted.

The board of fire and police commissioners asked for two new horses, as the city has no extra horses for the fire department. The matter was referred to the "joint police and fire committee with power to act."

A. G. Sullivan, 1513 Broad street, took out a saloon license and died before he received it, although the board had granted it, but no bond had been signed. The widow asked for a refund of the $50 paid in. Mayor Yeiser recommended favorably. The money was ordered refunded.

Hummel Bros. offered to insure the city lighting plant for an annual premium of $198 (instead of $256.32, their original offer). The board of public works lets this contract, and Hummel Bros. allege that the business has gone to another firm who cut the original premium only $6. The matter was referred to Mayor Yeiser and the board of public works.

W. J. McPherson, electrical and building inspector, reported that 209 Kentucky avenue is a dangerous building, unsafe for occupancy, as its 123 Broadway. Mayor Yeiser was instructed to give proper notices to property owners.

An alleged over assessment of personality from the Globe Bank and Trust company was referred to the tax book supervisor.

Frank Waggoner offered to furnish a boat 2 feet deep, 12 inches wide and 40 feet long with one man in charge to handle city garbage; to load all garbage, moor his boat 100 yards from the water's edge and dump the garbage there; also to remove from the streets and alleys all dead dogs, horses, etc., gratis. He asked $50 per month for a period of 12 months.

James A. Herring offered to furnish a boat manned by one man and to perform as much as Waggoner offers to do for $500 for one year.

Both propositions were referred to the joint sanitary committee and board of health.

Finance Reports.

The report of the joint finance committee for bills, salaries, accounts etc., amounting to $11,736.63, was received and filed.

The treasurer's report, showing a balance of $29,990.44 in the treasury at the close of March, was filed.

The mayor was authorized to borrow $3,592.50 to pay off $2,386 due the General Electrical company for new machinery for the light plant, and $206.50 to Engineer John Holmes.

Ordinances.

Ordinance for grading and graveling Fifth street from Broad to Elizabeth street. Second passage.

Ordinance for grading and graveling Tenth street from Husband

WHEN YOUR BACK ACHES.

Take one teaspoonful of the following simple mixture after your meals and again before going to bed, viz.: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Get the ingredients from some good prescription pharmacy and mix them yourself by shaking in a bottle.

The kidneys often become clogged up and inactive, either from overwork or change of weather, and cause the back and sides to pain and ache. This is said to readily relieve almost any lame back; also overcome the worst forms of Rheumatism, by toning up the kidneys and forcing them to filter the uric acid or Rheumatism poisons from the blood.

Ordinance amending the ordinance fixing the salary and bond of the city engineer, increasing the salary from $1,800 to $2,100 per annum. First passage.

Chief of Police James Collins' report for March was filed. It showed a total of $632.66 collected.

License Applications.

Application from E. M. Berry, 208 Kentucky avenue. Deferred because of a technicality. A remonstrance against the license was filed. Like Ackerman, a merchant next door to 208 Kentucky avenue, protested in person against issuing the license.

A prayer for relief from over assessment from James Bulger was referred to the auditor and assessor.

Several deeds and transfers to lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified.

The city engineer reported that an alley between Seventh and Eighth streets on Bachman and Husband streets, was city property, yet property owners have blocked it with a fence. The board of public works was instructed to have fences removed.

Dr. H. P. Sights, of the board of health, declared that the system of garbage disposal is bad, and that scavengers have stopped operating because there is no way to dump garbage, now that Ghent & Elliott have practically ceased to operate their float.

He urged that immediate action be taken in letting a new garbage dump contract. Dr. Sights declared that unless something is done at once, it will cost the city several hundred dollars to clean up the city, as it did two years ago.

Mayor Yeiser suggested that the board of health be given "power to act" in making a garbage contract.

Councilman Lackey favored this action.

The board of health was given power to act—to make the best contract possible.

The matter of cleaning filthy ditches on Burnett street near the Home of the Friendless was referred to the board of health.

Councilman Williamson asked if the board of public works has a right to make contracts for work at the city lighting plant.

Solicitor Campbell stated he was of the opinion that it does.

Councilman Williamson asked for the authority in black and white print.

Solicitor Campbell will look it up.

Solicitor Campbell stated that the city for years had been involved in a law suit over street improvements at Eighth and Burnett streets, and read an agreement reached, to be submitted to court. His action was ratified.

The defect in the application of E. M. Berry, 208 Kentucky avenue, was remedied and the application regularly presented.

A remonstrance from 23 signers was presented, most of them living on Kentucky avenue between Second and Third streets.

A petition in favor of the saloon was presented. Most of the signers were on side streets over a square away.

Attorney Hal S. Corbett made a short talk in favor of the saloon. License granted.

An ordinance prohibiting the sale of toy cartridge pistols was ordered. On motion the board adjourned.

ALMOST MIRACLE WAS THIS ESCAPE

How Wreck Was Averted By Act of Providence

Front Trucks of the Fast Passenger Train Leave Rails and Then Go Back.

ENGINEER'S LEG IS BROKEN

Almost by miracle a train load of human souls was saved from destruction yesterday afternoon on the Illinois Central at Fox Run switch, just this side of St. Charles, a station 75 miles north of Paducah on the road. The front trucks of the engine jumped the tracks and the engineer shut off steam, set the air brakes and sprang from the cab, receiving a broken leg. The truck jumped on the rails again, and it was some time after the train stopped that the passengers realized what danger they had escaped.

The fast flyer, No. 101, from Louisville to Memphis, due into Paducah at 6:05 o'clock, was bowling along at 40 miles an hour. The train was drawn by engine, No. 204, Engineer Bud Shelton, Fireman Ludlow and Conductor Dugan in charge. Suddenly Engineer Shelton felt a series of jolts.

Looking out of his cab window he saw the front trucks were off the rail. In a few seconds the entire engine might leave the track and wreck the train.

He shut off steam, applied the brakes, and jumped for safety, thinking a wreck inevitable.

The train came to a grinding stop several hundred yards from where the derailment occurred. Conductor Dugan ran forward to find no engineer in the cab. Looking back he perceived a form lying by the track, and Shelton was found with a badly broken left leg, the fracture being below the knee.

The engine had left the rails at the north end of the Fox Run switch and jumped on again when the end of the switch was reached. The wheels were standing firmly on the tracks when examined.

Engineer John Callaway was secured and ran the train into Paducah, the accident delaying it two hours. Engineer Shelton was placed in the baggage car and taken to the Illinois Central hospital where he is resting well today.

Fireman Ludlow did not know the trucks were off and remained in the cab as unconscious of the danger as the scores of passengers behind.

NOT WILL

SAYS BEN T. FRANK, OF TESTAMENT THAT IS PROBATED.

Ben T. Frank, Jr., against Mary Frank Chesterfield, is the style of a suit brought in circuit court, involving the possession of $75,000 worth of valuable property in the city and county. The parties are mother and son, prominent in Paducah, and the suit created something of a sensation.

The plaintiff alleges that the will probated in county court is not the will of his father, the late Dr. Ben T. Frank, who died February 25, 1898.

The will was in script and the signature, illegible, being a mere scribble, without witnesses. The will left everything to the wife. It was claimed that he tried to sign the will the night before he expired, but was too far gone to make the signature legible. The suit ignores the will entirely, alleging merely that the father died intestate.

Charged With Conspiracy.
Mayfield, Ky., April 2.—Fred Crawford, the former grocery merchant, was arrested by policeman Al-britton on a warrant charging him with the offense of entering into a conspiracy to commit a felony. We are informed that the felony was of conspiring to burn his store house on West Water street. It is alleged that Crawford approached Ben F. Smith and made the proposition to burn the house. Two other men, it is said, heard the conversation which resulted in an affidavit being made causing the arrest. The fire insurance policies on the store house have been cancelled. The trial has been set for Friday, April 5 in city court. He gave bond for $200.

Winter Coughs

is uric acid irritation of the mucus membrane of your lungs, causing the deep, hollow coughing and unpleasant mucous discharges. You can get relief only by removing the uric acid, and this you can easily do with the right means. LIFE PLANT is the remedy provided by Nature expressly with which to fight uric acid. Uric acid is a part of the body's waste matter, which the blood is always busy carrying away from all over your system to throw out through the kidneys. But if your blood is weakened, as follows age, it is unable to get rid of all the uric acid, which then crystallizes in the form of tiny, sharp grains resembling sand. A slight cold in your chest causes these little grains to lodge in the bronchial tubes where they constantly irritate the mucus membrane. Expectantors or inhalations can never cure you of this trouble, because they cannot touch the cause.

LIFE PLANT quickly clears away bronchitis, because it goes in with the blood and dissolves and removes the cause—the uric acid grains. It makes not the least difference how long you have had bronchitis. Begin taking LIFE PLANT now, and soon your lungs will be young again, breathing with the vigor of youth and giving your blood a full supply of oxygen to keep it red and warm. This is one of hundreds of testimonials:

"My friends believed me to be fast running into a consumption. My family became very much alarmed at my condition. My husband, hearing of the wonderful curative properties of Life Plant, prevailed on me to try it. I have used it with marked beneficial results, and am only too happy to recommend it."

CHAPTER I.

THE boy sat up and rubbed his eyes. He was stiff, foot-sore and a little chilly. There was no man servant arranging his bath and clothes, no pleasant smell of coffee—none of the small luxuries to which he was accustomed. On the contrary, he had slept all night upon a bed of bracken with no other covering than the stiff pine needles from the tall black trees, whose strange, rustling music had lulled him to sleep.

He sat up and remembered suddenly where he was and how he had come there. He yawned and was on the point of struggling to his feet when he became aware of certain changed conditions in his surroundings. Some instinct of simple curiosity, perhaps, or of far-reaching effect, led him to crawl back into his hiding place and watch.

Last night two things alone, after many hours of painful walking, had impressed themselves upon his consciousness—the dark, illimitable forest and the double line of rails which with the absolute straightness of exact science had stretched behind and in front till the treetops in the far distance had seemed to touch and the rails themselves to vanish into the black heart of the close growing pines. For miles he had humped along the painfully rough track without seeing the slightest sign of any break in the woods or any human being. At last the desire, for sleep had overtaken him. He was a hardy young Englishman, and a night out of doors in the middle of June under these odorous pines presented itself merely as a not disagreeable adventure. Five minutes after the idea had occurred to him he was asleep.

And now in the gray morning he looked out upon a different scene. Scarcely a dozen yards from him stood a single traveling coach of dark green, drawn by a heavy engine. At intervals of scarcely twenty paces up and down the line as far as he could see soldiers were stationed like sentries. They were looking sharply about in all directions, and he could even hear the footstep of others crashing through the wood. From the train three or four men in long cloaks had already descended. They were standing in the track talking together.

The young man behind the bracken felt himself in somewhat of a dilemma. There was a delightful smell of fresh coffee from the waiting coach, and there seemed to be not the slightest reason why he should not emerge from his hiding place and claim the hospitality of these people. He was a quite harmless person, with proper credentials and an adequate explanation of his presence there. On the other hand, the split of adventure natural to his years strongly prompted him to remain where he was and watch. He felt certain that something was going to happen. Besides, those soldiers had exactly the air of looking for somebody to shoot.

While he was hesitating something did happen. There was a shrill whistle, a puff of white smoke in the distance, and another train approached from the opposite direction. It drew up within a few feet of the one which was already waiting. Almost immediately half a dozen men, who were already standing upon the platform of the car, descended. One of these approached rapidly and saluted the central figure of those who had been talking together in the track. After a few moments' conversation these two, followed by one other man only who was carrying a writing portfolio, ascended the platform of the train which had arrived first and disappeared inside.

The young man who was watching these proceedings yawned. "No doubt, then," he muttered to himself, "I've half a mind to go out." Then he caught sight of a particularly fierce looking soldier with his finger already upon the trigger of his gun, and he decided to remain where he was.

In about half an hour the two men reappeared on the platform of the car. Simultaneously the window of the carriage in which they had been sitting was opened, and the third man was visible, standing before a small table and arranging some papers. Suddenly he was called from outside. He thrust his hat upon the papers and hastened to obey the summons.

A little rust of breeze from the opening and closing of the door detached one of the sheets of paper from the restraining weight of the hat. It fluttered out of the window and lay for a moment upon the side of the track. No one noticed it, and in a second or two it fluttered underneath the clump of bracken behind which the young Englishman was hiding. He thrust out his hand and calmly secured it.

In less than five minutes the place was deserted. Amid many hasty farewells, wholly unintelligible to the watcher, the two groups of men separated and climbed into their respective trains. As soon as every one was out of sight the Englishman rose, with a little grunt of satisfaction, and stretched himself.

He glanced first at the sheet of paper and, finding it written in German, thrust it into his pocket. Then he commenced an anxious search for smoking materials and eventually produced a pipe, a crumpled packet of tobacco and two matches.

"Thank heavens!" he exclaimed, lighting up. "And now for a tramp." He plodded steadily along the track for an hour or more. All the time he was in the heart of the forest. Pheasants and rabbits and squirrels continually crossed in front of him. Once a train passed, and an excited guard shouted threats and warnings, to which he replied in fluent but ineffective English.

"Johnnies seem to think I'm trespassing," he remarked to himself in an aggrieved tone. "I can't help being on their beastly line."

Tall, smooth faced and fair, he walked with the long stepped, lightsome grace of the athletic young Englishman of his day. He was well dressed

Those soldiers had exactly the air of looking for somebody to shoot.

In tweed clothes, cut by a good tailor, a little creased by his night out of doors, but otherwise immaculate. He hummed a popular air to himself and held his head high. If only he were not so hungry!

Then he came to a station. It was a little more than a few rows of plants, with a chalet at one end. But a very welcome sight confronted him. A little pile of luggage, with his initials, G. P., was on the end of the platform nearest to him.

"That conductor was a sensible chap!" he exclaimed. "Glad I tipped him. Hello!"

The station master, in uniform, came hurrying out. The young Englishman took off his hat and produced a phrase book from his pocket. He ignored the stream of words which the station master, with many gesticulations, was already pouring out.

"My luggage," he said firmly, laying one hand upon the pile and waving the phrase book.

The station master acquiesced heartily. He waxed eloquent again, but the Englishman was busy with the phrase book.

"Hungry? Hotel?" he attempted. The station master pointed to where the smoke was curling upward from a score of soot houses about half a mile distant. The Englishman was getting pleased with himself. Outside was a weird looking carriage, and on the box seat was a very fat man in a shiny hat ornamented by a bunch of feathers, fast asleep. He pointed to the luggage, then to the cab and finally to the village.

"Luggage, hotel, carriage," he suggested. The station master beamed all over. With a shout which must have reached the village he awakened the sleeping man. In less than five minutes the Englishman and his luggage were stored away in the carriage. His ticket had been examined by the station master and smilingly accepted. There were more bows and salutes, and the carriage drove off. Guy Poynton leaned back among the moldy leather upholstery and smiled complacently.

"Easiest thing in the world to get on in a foreign country with a phrase book and your wits," he remarked to himself. "Jove, I am hungry!" He drove into a village of half a dozen houses or so, which reminded him of the pictured abodes of Noah and his brethren. An astonished innkeeper, whose morning attire apparently consisted of trousers, shirt and spectacles, ushered him into a bare room with a trestle table. Guy produced his phrase book.

"Hungry?" he said vociferously. "Want to eat! Coffee!" The man appeared to understand, but in case there should have been any mistake Guy followed him into the kitchen. The driver, who had lost no time, was already there, with a long glass of beer before him. Guy produced a mark, laid it on the table, touched himself, the innkeeper and the driver and pointed to the beer. The innkeeper understood, and the beer was good.

The driver, who had been of course ludicrously overpaid, settled down in his corner and announced his intention of seeing through to the end this most extraordinary and heaven directed occurrence. The innkeeper and his wife busied themselves with the breakfast, and Guy made remarks every now and then from his phrase book, which were usually incomprehensible, except when they concerned a further supply of beer. With a brave acceptance of the courtesies of the country, he had accepted a cigar from the driver and was already contemplating the awful moment when he would have to light it. Just then an interruption came.

It was something very official, but whether military, or of the police Guy could not tell. It strode into the room with clanking of spurs, and the driver and innkeeper alike stood up in respect. It saluted Guy, Guy took off his hat. Then there came words, but Guy was busy with his phrase book. "I cannot a word of German speak," he announced at last.

A deadlock ensued. The innkeeper and the driver became furious. Guy took advantage of the moment to slip the cigar into his pocket and to light a cigarette. Finally the officer swung himself round and departed abruptly. "Dolmetscher," the driver announced to him triumphantly.

"Dolmetscher," the innkeeper repeated. Guy turned it up in his phrase book and found that it meant interpreter. He devoted himself then to stimulating the preparations for breakfast.

The meal was ready at last. There were eggs and ham and veal, dark colored bread and coffee, sufficient for about a dozen people. The driver constituted himself host, and Guy, with a shout of laughter, sat down where he was and ate. In the midst of the meal the officer reappeared, ushering in a small, wizened faced individual of unmistakably English appearance. Guy turned round in his chair, and the newcomer touched his forehead.

"Hullo!" Guy exclaimed. "You're English!"

"Yes, sir," the man answered. "Come over to train polo ponies for the Prince of Haapsburg. Not in any trouble, I hope, sir?"

"Not I," Guy answered cheerily. "Don't mind my going on with my breakfast, do you? What's it all about? Who's the gentleman with the fireman's helmet on, and what's he worrying about?"

"He is an officer of the police, sir, on special service," the man answered. "You have been reported for trespassing on the state railway this morning."

"Trespassing be blowed!" Guy answered. "I've got my ticket for the frontier. We were blocked by signal about half a dozen miles off this place, and I got down to stretch my legs. I understood then to say that we could not go on for half an hour or so. They never tried to stop my getting down, and then off they went, without any warning and left me there."

"I will translate to the officer, sir," the man said.

"Right," Guy declared. "Go ahead." There was a brisk colloquy between the two. Then the little man began again.

"He says that your train passed here at midnight and that you did not arrive until past 6."

"Quite right," Guy admitted. "I went to sleep. I didn't know how far it was to the station, and I was dead tired."

"The officer wishes to know whether many trains passed you in the night?" "Can't say," Guy answered. "I sleep very soundly, and I never opened my eyes after the first few minutes."

"The officer wishes to know whether you saw anything unusual upon the line?" the little man asked.

"Nothing at all," Guy answered coolly. "Bit inquisitive, isn't he?"

The little man came a little closer to the table.

"He wishes to see your passport, sir," he announced.

Guy handed it to him; also a letter of credit and several other documents.

"He wants to know why you were going to the frontier, sir."

"Sort of fancy to say that I'd been in Russia; that's all," Guy answered. "You tell him I'm a perfectly harmless individual. Never been abroad before."

The officer listened and took notes in his pocketbook of the passport and letter of credit. Then he departed, with a formal salute, and they heard his horse's hoofs ring upon the road outside as he galloped away. The little man came close up to the table.

"You'll excuse me, sir," he said, "but you seem to have upset the officials very much by being upon the line last night. There have been some rumors going about—but perhaps you're best not to know that. May I give you a word of advice, sir?"

"Let me give you one," Guy declared. "Try this beer!"

"I thank you, sir," the man answered. "I will do so with pleasure. But if you are really an ordinary tourist, sir, as I have no doubt you are, let this man drive you to Strenen and take the train for the Austrian frontier. You may save yourself a good deal of unpleasantness."

"I'll do it," Guy declared. "Vienna was the next place I was going to anyhow. You tell the fellow where to take me, will you?"

The man spoke rapidly to the driver. "I think that you will be followed, sir," he added, turning to Guy, "but very likely they won't interfere with you. The railway last night for twenty miles back was held up for state purposes. We none of us know why, and it doesn't do to be too curious over here, but they have an idea that you are either a journalist or a spy."

"Civis Britannicus sum!" the boy answered, with a laugh.

"It doesn't quite mean what it used to, sir," the man answered quietly.

Pittsburg is in Class With Sodom Cannot Muster Crowd of Righteous

Pittsburg, Pa., April 2.—Every prominent and wealthy man in Pittsburg is going around with a worried look. Fear that his name will not appear in the list of "the righteous" selected by the Pittsburg chamber of commerce for its virtue banquet Thursday night is the cause.

Some time ago a newspaper published in a little town out in Iowa declared in an editorial that if Pittsburg had been in existence in the days of Sodom and Gomorrah, the city would have been destroyed long before those ancient cities were. The Iowa paper went on to quote from the eighteenth chapter of the book of Genesis, twenty-sixth verse, which says:

"And the Lord said, 'If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sake.'"

The paper went on to tell how Abraham was unable to find the fifty righteous.

Hard Job for Committee.

Find Only 28 Righteous Men.

The Iowa paper remarked that Pittsburg could not produce even half a dozen men who would pass muster.

This statement "riled" the chamber of commerce. They had an indignation meeting at which it was decided they would show the world, at their annual banquet, just how long the city is on righteous men. The banquet committee was authorized to select the list. They have been working on it ever since.

At first they thought it would be a cinch to find the fifty, but, after making allowances for some of the escapades of a few of them and counting them in anyhow, they fell short.

Can't Send Even 30 Righteous.

They then tried for thirty, but failed to reach that number, too. At last, however, they announce gleefully that they have found twenty-eight men who will pass muster. The names of these men will be announced at the annual banquet, which is to be held in the hotel Schenley on next Thursday evening. The utmost secrecy is being maintained by the members of the banquet committee, and they will not even intimate whom they have selected.

There are dark rumors going around that all of the members of the banquet committee have jotted down their own names, and if this proves to be correct there are terrors of all kinds of trouble. Some men who stand pretty well at home at the present time are shaking in their boots for fear that their names are not down on the list.

WILLIAM J. DICKE DIES SUDDENLY

Popular Young Man is Victim of Heart Disease

Recovering Health At Riverside
Hospital When Fatal Summons
Comes To Him.

MANY FRIENDS WILL MOURN

William Joseph Dicke, one of Paducah's most prominent young business men, died suddenly this morning at 8 o'clock in Riverside hospital of heart trouble, after an illness of but a few days. News of his death will come as a shock to his friends, as he was seen on the streets Saturday afternoon. For the past six months he had been under treatment of a physician almost constantly, although his friends were not aware that he was in anything but the best of health.

Saturday afternoon he became ill and was taken to Riverside hospital away from the noise of the city. He was given attention by Drs. Bradley and Williamson and was much better Sunday. On Monday he was feeling well enough to leave the hospital, but remained on advice of his physicians.

Monday night Dr. Bradley sat up with him until 10 o'clock talking and left his patient in the best of spirits. This morning Mr. Dicke ate a hearty breakfast and arising started out of the room. Before he reached the door he suddenly clutched at his heart and fell. In a few moments he was beyond medical aid.

William J. Dicke was born in Paducah March 27, 1871, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dicke. He learned the tailoring trade and became an expert. In his early youth he started in business here and made a success. Eleven years ago he married Miss Bessie Johnson, daughter of Patro-man William Johnson, and three years later she died. Mr. Dicke then went west and remained for several years. He returned to Paducah and started up in business where the Culley store is now located and shortly after removed to the present location, 516 Broadway.

One year ago he married Miss Mary Weldon, daughter of the late Dr. A. J. Weldon. She was absent in Paris, Tenn., visiting relatives when her husband died.

The deceased leaves a mother, two brothers and three sisters besides his wife and infant child. His brothers are Messrs. Henry and John Dicke, and his sisters, Mrs. Harry Williamson, Mrs. John Williamson and Mrs. Percy Paxton, all of Paducah.

Mrs. Dicke arrived this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Paris, Tenn., but no funeral arrangements have been made.

No death could cause greater sorrow among the younger men in Paducah than that of Will Dicke's. He was popular, not having an enemy. He was a lover of sports, and kept the finest kennel of dogs in Paducah and one hundred pairs of the finest carrier pigeons ever brought to this country. His tailor shop was headquarters for hundreds of sportsmen and the good natured proprietor extended a welcome hand to all alike.

The body was removed to Mrs. Dicke's residence, 2700 Broadway, this afternoon on her arrival from Paris.

Euphemism of Death.

"Decease" is now a regular form of word for death. But it began as a gentle euphemism, "decessus" (departure) seeming much less harsh to the Romans than "mors." All languages abound in euphemisms of the kind, which go back to a superstitious reluctance to mention death plainly, that gradually passed into a kindly desire to soften the idea. "Passed away," "departed," "gone," "expire" (breathe out), "no more," "demise" and even "the late" are expressions of this nature. Most striking of all is the Roman euphemism for "he is dead"—"vixit," he has lived.

An easy mark by any other name would be just as foolish.
